

The first step to completing your FAFSA is to create a studentaid.gov account (a username and password). Your studentaid.gov account gives you access to Federal Student Aid's online system and serves as your legal signature.

You'll use the studentaid.gov account every year you are in college to complete the FAFSA and review your federal student aid. Fill in this form as you create your studentaid.gov account so you can have the information when you need to log in later.
